* The term chronically homeless refers to an individual or family with a disabling condition who has been continuously homeless (living in emergency shelter or a place not meant for human habitation) for a year or more OR has had at least four episodes of homelessness in the past three years.

 In 2015, the definition for unaccompanied youth was expanded by HUD to include individuals living in a household or by themselves with no one older than 24 years of age. In all previous years, unaccompanied youth only included individuals 18 years of age and younger.

 This data is subject to review by the US Department of Housing and Urban Development. However, the above information has been submitted by One Roof as our final data for Jefferson, St. Clair, and Shelby County's 2015 Point-in-Time count.

PIT 2015 Summary of Data

One Roof is happy to finally release our Point-in-Time numbers submitted to the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) for 2015. As you may know, Point-in-Time is an annual census of our community's homeless population (in Jefferson, St. Clair, and Shelby Counties), and is meant to act as a "snapshot" of what central Alabama's homeless population looks like on any given night. One Roof is thankful for the assistance of more than 120 volunteers and agency staff who took the time to collect this very important information and conduct interviews with people sleeping in unsafe spaces. We are also thankful for the participation of the individuals who were interviewed for this survey and for trusting One Roof volunteers with information about their circumstances.

While there are many significant pieces of data that can be seen in this year's PIT data, we wanted to highlight just a few of the changes worth paying attention to upon first glance:

Current data. You may notice that this chart only goes back to 2011. We do have additional data for 2005, 2007, and 2009 that is available in older data on our website located here. To conserve space and draw attention to recent developments, we have focused specifically on 2011 – 2015 numbers in this year's chart.

- Our 2015 PIT shows that there has been a decrease of almost 200 people experiencing homelessness since last year, and that there are 1,300 fewer people experiencing homelessness since 2005. While the struggle to end homelessness in our community is not over, this is remarkable news for central Alabama and a testament to our fantastic service providers and member agencies.
- Each category and sub-population has decreased by a minimum of 20% since 2014. Out of everyone experiencing homelessness, in 2015 there are more people who are sheltered than unsheltered at a ratio of 8:2.

Children and Youth. This year, the categories of persons in "households with ONLY children," and "Unaccompanied Youth" are different from each other. "Persons in households with ONLY children" refers to children 18 years of age or younger who are experiencing homelessness and are not staying with anyone else over the age of 18. In our sub-population data, the definition of "unaccompanied youth" has expanded to include persons under the age of 25 (rather than under the age of 18) this year.

- Our community has seen an increase in the number of younger people experiencing homelessness over the past couple of years, and we know that youth numbers are often underrepresented in PIT counts. By expanding this demographic of youth to include individuals between the ages of 18 and 24, we are trying to make sure that we look at the specific needs of this growing sub-population in central Alabama. Young adults between the ages of 18 and 24 tend to experience homelessness due to aging out of the foster care system, a lack of life/work skills and experience, and other issues related to a lack of a support system during formative years where many people may still have guidance and support.

Similarly, this is also the first year that we have reported information about parenting youth households. These households are made up of youth under the age of 24 who are also reporting a child

- Similarly, this is also the first year that we have separated information about parenting youth households. These households are made up of youth under the age of 24 who are also parenting a child under the age of 18. This demographic is especially vulnerable because younger parents have the same difficulties other homeless youths have, with the added difficulty of simultaneously caring for a child.

Veterans and Chronic Homelessness. In 2015, veteran homelessness is specifically viewed in the context of chronic homelessness – and for good reason! With 30 fewer veterans experiencing homelessness overall since 2014, and with 9 of the 11 veterans who are unsheltered being long-term homeless, we know that chronically homeless veterans are a particular demographic that struggles with maintaining stable housing; as such, that data about chronically homeless vets has been isolated this year.

- One Roof is ecstatic to report that this year's PIT count shows that there are only 11 unsheltered veterans, which means that central Alabama is on target with national efforts to end veteran homelessness by the end of 2015. By next year, we hope to see that we have indeed reached the goal of bringing veteran homelessness to a functional zero in central Alabama; that is, not even ONE veteran experiences homelessness for longer than 30 days.
- This year, there was only ONE chronically homeless family to report on our PIT count.
- The fewest number of people to experience chronic homelessness since 2005 was recorded in this year's PIT count.
